—PRESIDENT BACK IN U. S.—

FDR Will Report Tonight

CHIEF EXECUTIVE SPEAKS FROM SEATTLE NAVY YARD; HE VISITED THE ALEUTIANS

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 12—(AP)— President Roosevelt tonight will give his first report to the nation since he accepted a fourth term nomination—climaxing a 15 day Pacific war tour which in his own words took him far away from politics.

The chief executive will speak by radio from the Bremerton navy yard near here at 7 p. m. CWT. The broadcast will be carried by the four major networks.

Mr. Roosevelt boarded a cruiser at San Diego, Cal., July 21—a day after he accepted a fourth term nomination—and arrived at Pearl Harbor July 26 to confer with Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and other top-rank Pacific war chiefs.

Moves Into Aleutians.

From there he moved on into the Aleutians.

The announcement that he will speak from the Bremerton navy yard gave no indication of the president's immediate whereabouts. Neither did it discuss the nature of his address, but he told a news conference in Honolulu on July 29 that he would report to the nation on his Pacific visit—his first war tour this year.

Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied into the Pacific by Admiral William D. Leahy, a member of the

President Visited Adak Island In The Aleutians

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—The Aleutians base which President Roosevelt visited on Aug. 3 was Adak, far out in the Andreanof islands chain, pointing toward Japan's northern outposts.

This disclosure was authorized by the white house today after news and photo copy on the president's Alaskan trip previously had been censored to delete specific identification of the base visited.

Mr. Roosevelt's service hosts there were Capt. A. I. Price, commanding Adak's naval operating base, and Brig. Gen. Harry F. Thompson, commander of the army post.

America Nearing Crossroads, Says Rep. Carl Curtis

"We cannot exist half free and half communistic," declared Representative Carl T. Curtis at the luncheon of republican precinct committeemen and women at the chamber of commerce Saturday. "It is not a question of personalities," he declared, "it is a choice between two ways of life."

Rep. Curtis explained that if the American people wanted a national government which provided all human wants and protection from all vicissitudes of life, they still would not be free, but would be submerged and would become puppets of the state. "That is a picture of the future if the New Deal stays in power," he asserted.

"The high-policy makers in the New Deal administration have no faith in America," he continued, "they haven't the courage to trust the American system.

"I wish to say again that the presidential election of 1944 is the most important election in the history of our republic. America is at the crossroads."

Curtis informed the group that he was leaving for Washington immediately because of the press of important legislative business.

The only American to have spent virtually the entire Pacific war to date on Guam island is George Ray Tweed, 42, above, who five years ago Aug. 10 landed on that island assigned to duty at the naval radio station there. He has remained on the island in hiding since the first Japanese attack on Dec. 8, 1941, eluding his captors until one month ago when he escaped to an American naval vessel following the invasion of Saipan island. He is now in this country where his wife and their two sons, Ronald Eugene, 9, and Robert Edward, 3, who was born on Guam, are residing with Mrs. Tweed's mother, Mrs. W. H. Suddurth of Santa Paula, Cal.

—HINT OF NEW LANDINGS—

Smashing Air Blows Delivered

. . . ON 2,000-MILE FRONT FROM NORWAY TO ITALY

(By the Associated Press.)

Allied forces, possibly carrying out grand strategy presaging new amphibious operations, have staggered and baffled the Germans with land and aerial blows on a 2,000-mile front in western Europe curving from Norway to Italy, it was disclosed today.

More than 750 heavy bombers smashed at defenses on the Mediterranean coast of France and northern Italy today following through a tactical air assault yesterday, possibly preparatory to a new land blow against Europe's under-belly.

The British admiralty announced that naval planes attacked anti-invasion installations set up by the Germans on Norway's west coast. Operating from a carrier force, the planes smashed at coastal defenses and shipping southwest of Trondheim, scene of the ill-fated British amphibious expedition into Norway four years ago.

Lash Riviera Area.

The tactical air force concentrated on smashing anti-aircraft positions, pillboxes, radio facilities and gun emplacements along an eight-mile area of southern France's coast and a 40-mile portion of the neighboring Italian Riviera.

The island of Corsica lies 100 miles to the south in the Mediterranean. The Germans repeatedly have reported that French forces have been massed on Corsica for an amphibious operation.

The bombing attack yesterday coincided with Prime Minister Churchill's arrivals in Italy. The Italian press suggested that his visit was a sign of the importance the Italian war theater "may assume in the near future."

The Germans have reported frequently without confirmation that allied amphibious forces have maneuvered off France's southern coast and have displayed concern over a possible allied thrust up the Rhone valley, the lifeline of southern France.

Balkan Chief Von Weichs Is Wounded

. . . IN ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION

ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 12—(AP)—A reliable report from Belgrade today said Field Marshal Baron Maximilian Von Weichs, German commander-in-chief in the Balkans, had been wounded by a young nazi lieutenant in an assassination attempt.

FDR Orders

Truck Lines Under ODT Command

Until Settlement; Pay Boost Granted

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 12—(AP)—First action to start trucks moving under government supervision in eight midwestern states will be taken Sunday when operators will meet with representatives of the office of defense transportation.

Ellis T. Longenecker, ODT highway transportation director, and William Wilson, Sioux Falls, S. D., chairman of the Midwest Operators association, requested all operators in the territory to meet at 10 a. m., Sunday to hear regulations of government operation of the truck lines.

Army Backs Order.

President Roosevelt last night ordered seizure of the truck lines and said the army is behind the ODT in its operation of the lines until the strike of approximately 25,000 over-the-road drivers is ended.

Arriving from Washington with Longenecker this morning were Clair Roddewig, ODT general counsel; Lloyd Davis, who will act as Longenecker's aide, and C. W. Emken, interstate commerce commission accounting expert who will supervise the financial setup.

These officials, together with Lou Hosking, secretary of the operators group who also came from Washington today, and Robert G. May, general counsel for the Operators' association, here from Sioux Falls, along with Mel G. Barnes, Twin Cities ODT director, will attend the Sunday conference.

Barnes pointed out that it would be difficult to resume operations today because operational plans would have to be outlined by Longenecker to operators and drivers and also because many of the trucks working out of Minneapolis were left at relay points at the time of the strike and they would have to be returned here.

Thomas E. Flynn, acting president of the international brotherhoods of teamsters (AFL) said his organization was fully in accord with the seizure of the truck properties. In making his statement in Indianapolis, Flynn

C. & N. W. Plans oT Drop Scribner-Cornlea Line

. . . Commission Notified

North Western railroad officials plan to abandon the Scribner line washed out by the June flood as far as Cornlea, according to a letter they sent the Nebraska railway commission Saturday.

Operational officials of the line have advised the line's board of directors to take this step. This indicates that delay of the road in announcing its position was correctly gauged by the Nebraska commission when Friday, it asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to order the line rehabilitated.

The Nebraska commission Friday asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to order the road to repair the line. It said the road had virtually abandoned the line without permission.

To Ask Approval

The letter from the management said the board of directors of the North Western lines would be asked to approve filing of an application for abandonment with the ICC.

Writing to Chairman Swanson of the Nebraska commission, L. L. White, vice-president in charge of operation and F. G. Fitz-Patrick, vice president in charge of traffic told the state commission that repairs to the tracks in the Scribner to Cornlea, first station beyond Humphrey en route to Oakdale, area would cost about $250,000 and added "with full consideration of all the factors involved in this situation, including the severe flood damage and the fact that the operation of that part of the line between Scribner and Cornlea has over the years resulted in a substantial deficit our management has decided to recommend to the board of directors at its next meeting that an application be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to permit abandonment between Scribner and Cornlea."

"In event this recommendation is approved by the board an application will be filed with the interstate commerce Commission with dispatch and the case expedited insofar as it lies within the control of this company to go so in order that all concerned may know the ultimate future of this section of the line at as early a date as possible."

Lincoln Youth Is Gunner On D-Day Lead Assault Plane

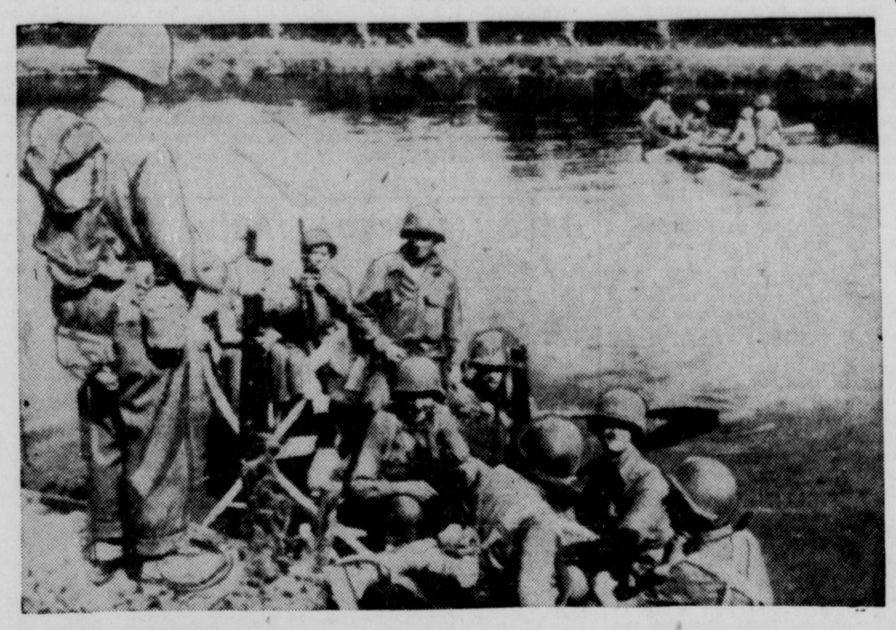

Serving as engineer-turret gunner on the "Mary Jo," the first American bomber over the French coast on D-Day, was Staff Sgt. Kenneth L. Hobbs of Denver, grandson of Mrs. M. H. Mackenhaupt, 1429 N street.

The "Mary Jo's" crew members studied a sand-model layout of the French coast for a week behind locked doors. They learned every foot of the ground. Early on the morning of D-Day the ship streaked out over the English channel. Over the enemy coast the crew let go its bombs and made perfect hits on the coastal guns; the guns were destroyed.

This bomber spearheaded the assault a few minutes before the first American landing craft placed its men on the French beach.

Mystery Drive West Of Paris Baffles Germans

Americans Lunge 10 Miles Across Loire

. . . Two-Way Allied Threat To South France Grows

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 12—(AP)—The allies by land and air developed a two-way threat to southern France today, as supreme headquarters announced that the four-day mystery operations west of Paris had the Germans so much in the dark that strictest secrecy was of paramount importance.

Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge was reported recklessly throwing the bulk of his west wall forces into the area below Caen, despite the development of an allied encirclement threat.

The menace to southern France strengthened with an American armored thrust 10 miles southward across the Loire river, while up to 750 U. S. heavy bombers from Italy blasted nazi coastal defenses along the Mediterranean. This was the second straight day of air thrusts against positions guarding the enemy's as yet unpierced southern wall in the Riviera sector.

Secrecy Necessary.

Supreme headquarters announced formally that the allies' dazzling scythe-like sweep across northwestern France—last officially reported on Wednesday to be driving beyond Le Mans, 110 miles from Paris—was calculated so to baffle the Germans with its speed and extent that "the situation must remain obscure purely for security reasons."

The only news since then has been front reports of a push northward toward the channel—which might cut off the great German concentration docked in heavy fighting south of Caen and north of Falaise, 42 miles from the reported tip of the American spearhead.

British and Canadian armies along this northern flank punched out new gains. The British advanced 2,500 yards to within 5,000 yards of the enemy bastion of Conde-Sur-Noireau, 11 miles southwest of Thury-Harcourt and 26 from Caen, heightening the peril to Germans in the Caen pocket. The enemy, however, recaptured a bitterly-fought hill farther north.

The squeeze on this area was continued by Americans from the south, but a front dispatch said this U. S. thrust above the Le Mans was meeting strong resistance.

Germans reports said the Americans had reached Alencon, 30 miles above Le Mans.

Brest Counter Attack.

Even as the allies pressed in on this coffin-shaped, 30-mile corridor extending west of the Orne, the Germans were reported pouring in reinforcements despite crippled transport. Front dispatches said they had orders to withdraw only on authorization from Hitler's headquarters.

On the Breton peninsula the Germans hit out from besieged Brest this morning in a small counter-attack. They were apparently reconnaissance thrusts to test U. S. offensive positions at the big port, hammered by RAF heavy bombers this morning.

Headquarters said U. S. troops had taken more than 10,000 prisoners in 48 hours up to Thursday midnight.

The break across the Loire 10 miles into southern France was made Friday simultaneously with sudden raids by a special force of tactical bombers along the Mediterranean coast 450 miles to the southeast.

German Flank Periled

Two Red Armies Converge On Nazis In East Prussia

MOSCOW, Aug. 12—(AP)—Two soviet armies, moving through 250 captured settlements over a 100-mile front, advanced upon the Masurian Lake country of East Prussia today in a maneuver which seriously endangered the Germans' entire left flank.

Marshall Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's troops driving northward from positions northeast of Warsaw and Gen. Zakharov's forces striking out from west and northwest of Bialystok toward the World War I battle theater in East Prussia were applying severe pressure on the Germans.

The Germans who had massed reserves of armor in the East Prussia-Lithuania frontier began a feverish shifting to meet the new danger.

All Truckers Back To Work Next Monday

ON FULL-SCALE SCHEDULE, M. M. KRUPINSKY DECLARES

OMAHA, Aug. 12—(AP)—Full-scale operations of government-seized truck lines in the Omaha area cannot get under way before Monday, Nebraska Chairman M. M. Krupinsky of the Midwest Operators association said today.

Truck terminals here were scenes of bustling activity as the firms prepared to resume operations under supervision of the office of defense transportation, but district ODT Manager V. J. Hons said he had not yet been formally advised of the government seizure. Krupinsky said some truck lines may resume operations by tonight. Sam Winsky, secretary-treasurer of the Omaha AFL drivers union local, said drivers and dock workers are ready to return to work "at once" and that some dock workers were back at work today.

Some Firms Inactive.

Winsky asserted three of the largest firms here—Union transfer, Watson Brothers and Merchants Motor Freight, Inc.—had

'Long Toms' Hurl Plasma To Yankees

. . . Of Lost Battalion

BY WES GALLAGHER.

ON THE MORTAIN SECTOR IN FRANCE, Aug. 12—(AP)—American Long Tom 155's, delivering life instead of death, fired shells filled with blood plasma, morphine and sulfa drugs to a "lost battalion" fighting on a hill behind German lines.

For five days the battalion of a young American infantry division fought behind enemy lines, causing great havoc and refusing two demands to surrender from Hitler's prize SS troops. They were supplied by food in "dive-bombing" by P-47 Thunderbolts, and with medical supplies by Long Tom artillery shells.

The battalion was part of a division which has been in the line for more than 40 days. Although tired, it bore the brunt of an attack by more than four nazi armored divisions, standing firm even when battalion and regimental command posts were overrun and switchboard operators had to use bazookas to drive off the enemy.

Late today a regiment fought its way to the battalion position, opening up a relief route.

4 Are Killed By Army Bomb

. . . FALLING FROM PLANE

EGLIN FIELD, Fla., Aug. 12—(AP)—Maj. Edward Doherty, base intelligence officer, said today that "a fragmentation bomb which fell accidentally" from a plane killed four persons and injured five others at the little community of Alaqua near the edge of Eglin field's bombing range last night.

He said a military board was investigating the cause of the accident.

Maj. Doherty reported the bomb apparently fell near or in the yard of a home where members of the family were sitting on the porch or walking around in the yard.

Missouri Prison Escapee Picked Up At Hallam

Benny Pearl Adamson, who escaped one year ago from the Missouri state penitentiary where he was sentenced to five years on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, was picked up Friday night in Hallam by County Sheriff Miles Holloway and Deputy Les Foight for investigation.

Adamson, who had been going under the name of Joe W. Davis, was identified by the state identification bureau, Saturday morning, when he was taken there to be fingerprinted. After a confession from Adamson about his escape, Sheriff Halloway called the Missouri state pen and verified the story.

According to Halloway the escapee said that he had previously been sentenced to terms at penitentiaries in Georgia, Arkansas, Missouri, and Leavenworth, Kas.

Adamson has recently been working on the Rock Island extra gang in Clatonia. A special railroad agent called the sheriff late Friday night asking him to pick "Davis" for investigation. The agent said that "Davis" was thought to be in the vicinity of Hallam.

12 Die In Explosion

. . . AND FIRE IN ILLINOIS

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., Aug. 12—(AP)—Twelve persons, six of them children, died in an explosion and fire in old Shawneetown, last night.

The accident occurred when gasoline fumes held inside the Ohio river levee burst into 300-foot flames, killing three men working on near-by storage tanks and burning to death the occupants of two houses. All who died in the houses and one of the workmen were members of one family.

The dead were Joseph Rider, 48, of Shawneetown, his four daughters, Betty Jo, 12; Clara Donna, 10; Mrs. Harold Roark, 17, with her 2-month-old baby; Rider's son-in-law, Wayne Roark, a sailor home on leave from Great Lakes naval training station and two employes of the Illinois Farm Supply Co., William Scott and Logan Tharp, both of Kingston Mines.

25,000 Mourn Over Victims Of Lublin

. . . MASS HELD FOR HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS EXTERMINATED

BY EDDY GILMORE.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12—(AP)—The wailing of 25,000 mourners swelled over Lublin as the Polish committee of national liberation carried out a huge mass for the victims who died in the nazi extermination camp there, soviet dispatches from that city said today.

Assembled in the great square before the Lublin castle, the mourners sang the traditional "Saint Virgin" song of the Poles, these reports said, adding:

Polish troops stood with uncovered heads. Women and girls, overcome with emotion, flung themselves on the ground. Prayers for the dead continued for hours in the hot sun.

Germans Dig Up Bodies.

German captives dug up many bodies of the victims as hostile Poles watched.

There were screams of "Murderers!" and "Degenerates!" from the crowd as prisoners lifted the corpse of a child from an open ditch.

The committee of liberation unveiled a tablet on a wall of Lublin castle and masons sealed an urn with ashes of the nazi victims into the wall.

The memorial tablet carried this inscription:

"To the millions of the victims killed by the German criminals at Maidanek (the suburban village where the extermination camp was located) and in the castle. August 6. The Polish People."

Half-Burned Bodies.

Huge crowds flocked to the extermination camp, looking with frightened and angry faces at scenes of half-burned bodies and piles of ashes of hundreds of others.

German prisoners dug silently.

"They shudder when they hear the crowd shout and scream at some fresh new atrocity," the dispatch said.

Correspondent Boris Gorbatov said one of the torture instruments was a weighing chamber, where the Germans recorded the slow starvation of victims who were not hanged. The average weight for prisoners was reported to have been 70 to 80 pounds as they were fed slowly upon soup made from grass.

'Sacrifice' Is Topic Bishop Stauffacher At Milford Assembly

At the Saturday morning session of the Nebraska Evangelical Assembly meeting at Milford, Bishop C. H. Stauffacher addressed the delegation on the theme, "Sacrifice As A Way In The Kingdom."

"When you wear a cross be careful where you take it. Again self preservation is superceded by a higher law—the law of self-sacrifice. This is not a time to clutter up our boxes of wealth, but this is a time for self-sacrifice," said the Bishop.

Various conferences were held Saturday morning. Mrs. A. Germanotta showed the children some projects of Italian children and Mrs. H. S. Frank talked of home and foreign missions. Other conferences conducted were led by Mrs. F. E. Schroeder, Mrs. H. R. Knosp, and Mrs. B. E. Noerenberg.

A hundred delegates were registered, which is a larger delegation than that of last year, officials said.

Germain One Up On Phyllis Otto At Halfway Point

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—(AP)—Defending Champion Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, shooting a 40-39—79, four over par, to her opponent's 41-40—81, today led Phyllis Otto of Omaha, Neb., 1-up at the end of the first round of their scheduled 36-hole match for the women's Western amateur golf championship.

Miss Otto, trailing three down after the 15th hole, won the next two with par 4s—coming from a trap to sink a 10 foot putt on 16 and reaching the 17th green in two strokes by rolling her ball almost 100 yards around a fringe of trees jutting out on the fairway. They halved the 18th in 4s, Miss Otto chipping her third six feet away and holing out the putt, while Miss Germain, on in two, took two putts from 18 feet.

Paul Scott Relates Experiences During Invasion Of Choiseul

Boatsmate 2/c Paul Scott, former Star reporter, who has participated in six original invasions, described the invasion of Choiseul, a small island in the Solomon group, and its connection with the battle at Bougainville, when he visited The Star office Saturday.

Scott said that the small group of boat pools with which he was to land, was ordered to stay on the island for ten days. He explained that they drew 8,000 Japs from Bougainville by making them think a large force had landed.

"Although we were forced off in seven days, those Japs are still trapped on the island," Scott declared.

The former newsman, who is being transferred to the naval air corps, was also with the army at Rendova. He helped land marines behind the Jap lines on Munda, operated with the New Zealanders at Vella Lavella and participated in the invasion of the Admiralties and Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea.

Now Writing Book.

When his buddy was killed during the invasion of Munda, in July, 1943, the 22-year-old sailor who enlisted in the navy three days after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, began writing a book which he later titled, "Eighteen Months To Die." He reported that he already has 200 pages in finished form.

Paul expressed the opinion that the eighteen months rotation plan "doesn't work," and said that some of the anti-aircraft divisions have been operating from 29 to 36 months in front line defenses.

"They either die or get ordered out by the bureau," he asserted.

Paul, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Scott of Greeley is to report the last of August to the flight selection board in California where he will await assignment.

B-24s of the Seventh army air force sprayed Iwo island, 750 miles southeast of Tokyo, with 47 tons of bombs Wednesday.

The Seventh AAF recently established an advance base around a Japanese built airdrome on Saipan island in the Marianas, 725 miles south of Iwo.

Other allied bombers from the New Guinea-Australia area sank four Japanese freighters, a coastal vessel and a number of smaller craft at Halmahera island, between New Guinea and the Philippines, and damaged a 2,000-ton freighter near the Talaud islands, 200 miles south of Mindanao.

Japs Reflect Uneasiness.

Reflecting Japanese uneasiness over the attacks and over recent B-29 raids upon Japan and Manchuria and Liberator strikes against the Philippines, Tokyo radio said today the Japan industrial machinery control association had decided to set up a supervisory office to order emergency shifts in machine tool factories "to cope with the enemy air raids."

Tokyo also reported that enemy planes attempted to attack targets in the Canton, China, area Thursday night but "fled without being able to enter the city or its vicinity."

A Chinese-American wing of the 14th air force inflicted the heaviest Japanese loss in a single raid in China Thursday, destroying or damaging 50 planes, most of them on the ground, at Taiyuan in Shanshi province.

Japs Pour in Reinforcements.

American fliers, making their second large-scale attack upon Changsha since the Hunan provincial capital fell to the Japanese in June, touched off a number of explosions and fires in the eastern section of that city Friday.

Chungking sources reported that the Japanese were shuffling their forces throughout the conquered areas to meet American attacks, pouring troop reinforcements into the Philippines and Formosa and strengthening the entire Canton area.

Chinese who captured Leiyang, 30 miles south of Hengyang, battled reinforced Japanese units in the city's suburbs.

The Chinese also renewed their attacks upon the Japanese ring around Hengyang, in the capture of which the Japanese claimed the imprisonment of "about 20" U. S. army officers.

In central China, Chinese forces recovered Pingsiang, 100 miles northeast of Hengyang, and pushed the enemy 30 miles westward to the outskirts of Liling.

THE CASE OF The Crooked Candle

Based on the new detective mystery starring ace investigator Perry Mason

From the darkness came a peculiar thumping sound . . .

"Here, take this poker," Della said.

A flashlight sent a brilliant circle into the cabin . . .

FOR the moment, Della Street, startled to wakefulness, was too frightened to say anything as the yacht heeled over. She grasped instinctively at the doorway of the cabin for support. Perry Mason's limp body rolled over and banged up against the starboard side.

A moment later, she heard his laugh from the darkness. "Well, Della, I went to sleep and that did it. The time seems to be exactly one-forty-three. According to my mental arithmetic that's four hours and one minute after high tide . . ."

"What's that?" Della Street asked, startled, as Mason abruptly stopped talking.

"Listen!" he cautioned. They listened. From the outer darkness came a peculiar rhythmic thumping sound which grew momentarily louder—a sound which had a jarring undertone that seemed to strike the hull of the boat with a distinct impact.

"What is it?" Della Street whispered.

"A rowboat," Mason announced in a low voice.

"Coming this way?"

"Yes."

"Do you suppose it's the man coming back for us?—Perhaps his outboard motor went wrong and . . ."

"Too early," Mason said. "Keep quiet, Della. What are you doing?"

"I'm over here by the stove, getting the poker," she said. "If this should be the murderer . . ."

"Hush," Mason warned.

He groped toward her in the dim light from the stove and whispered, "Let's find that flashlight."

"I've been looking for it," she whispered. "When the boat heeled over, it must have rolled off the table. Here, Chief, you take this poker. It's heavy and . . ."

Abruptly the jarring impact ran through the yacht as a rowboat thudded against the side of the yacht's hull.

Heavy feet pounded on the deck above them. The hatchway made a noise as it slid back along the metallic guides.

Mason pulled Della Street toward the doorway leading to the rear cabin. "Quick," he said in a whisper, "in the cabin!"

As Mason pushed Della Street into the rear cabin, a flashlight sent a brilliant circle of light down into the cabin. A leg swung over the companionway and stopped...

2 Nebraskans Rescued at Sea

U. S. BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, Aug. 12—(AP)—Two Nebraskans, Lt. Clarence E. Ross of Franklin, co-pilot, and Alvie Kirkendall, of Lincoln, were members of a Flying Fotrress crew rescued at sea after a recent raid and brought to England by a Danish fisherman who left his home, family and business to make the trip.

Lt. Charles Canfield of St. Joseph, Mo., the pilot, said "the fisherman told us he could not go back to Denmark because after having been absent for several days, the Germans would arrest him."

The airmen were drifting in a dinghy 13 miles from the enemy shore when the Danish skipper took them aboard his 35-ton boat. Lt. Ross said "he headed for us so fast he cracked a cylinder head."

The crew was given cold milk, fresh eggs, ham, beer and soda pop aboard the boat.

Interpretation of Mandate Is Asked In Norfolk Case

Assistant Attorney General Rush C. Clarke, in appealing to Supreme court for the state in the action of the District court of Madison county in padlocking the Rex Hash roadhouse just outside of Norfolk for one year, asks for an interpretation of the mandate issued in the case by the high court itself.

When the high court's mandate was received by Madison county District court the latter issued a new decree in accordance with the mandate which, the brief of the attorney general says, "did not enjoin as many things as had been enjoined in the original decree." The new decree merely followed the order to "abate the nuisance pursuant to the provisions of Section 53-377, Comp. St., Supp. 1941."

The state's brief contends that after the year's padlocking expires, there is nothing in the lower court's new decree to prevent Hash from engaging in exactly the same business as before and that with the exception of the padlock order for a year the last injunction entered by the court is not as broad as the first injunction which was reversed on appeal. Both are signed by District Judges Lyle E. Jackson and Fay H. Pollock.

'Federal' Benefit Bill Out

MURRAY-KILGORE MEASURE IS DEFEATED IN SENATE, 55 TO 19

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Reeling under a crushing senate defeat of the Murray-Kilgore reconversion plan, administration democrats today moved hopefully toward an attempt to revive in the house their program for higher federal benefits for war workers.

Their chances of success looked slim. Several members of the house ways and means committee, which will start hearings Tuesday, made it clear they lean strongly toward the "states' rights" bill of Senator George (D-Ga.), which republicans and southern democrats pushed to senate passage last night, 55 to 19.

Rep. Carlson (R-Kan.) predicted that the ways and means committee, which includes a number of states' rights advocates, would also approve "the George bill or something close to it."

Barkley Supports Measure.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) swung to the Murray-Kilgore side in the closing senate debate, and later made it clear the fight for federally-fixed insurance payments to displaced workers had not ended.

He termed "inadequate" the state unemployment systems carrying payments of $13 to $22 weekly for temporarily idle workers, adding:

"I hope the house will amend and expand the bill so that it will provide amply for dealing with the problem of the postwar unemployed, and also that it will be broadened to deal with other phases of reconversion."

As passed by the senate, the George measure sets up an office of war mobilization and reconversion headed by a presidentially-appointed director to handle demobilization planning.

It also brings an estimated 3,500,000 federal employes under state unemployment insurance programs at Federal expense, and sets up a federal loan fund to guarantee the solvency of the state funds, but leaves full control of unemployment insurance rates to the states.

The Murray-Kilgore bill would have created more elaborate reconversion machinery, fixed uniform insurance rates as high as $35 weekly, provided for federally-financed vocational training for idle persons and substantially boosted mustering out pay and jobless payments to returning war veterans.

It never reached a direct senate vote. The first ballot was on part of the George program offered as a substitute, and that carried, 49 to 25. On final passage, when it was cleared the Murray-Kilgore proposal was doomed, Barkley and several others swung over to the George bill.

A last-minute compromise offer by Senator Kilgore (D-WVA) to cut the maximum benefit payment from $35 to $25 a week availed nothing.

Russ Overjoyed at News Of Victories In France

MOSCOW, Aug. 12—(AP)—The Russians, overjoyed at the allied victories in France, rushed all the latest news of the advances to the red army fronts today by planes, radio and telegraph. Newspapers took the tidings to the men on the march.

"Our soldiers are rejoicing with all their heart at the good work of allied soldiers," commented Ilya Ehrenburg, soviet author and journalist. "We are walking along different roads but we are going to the same place, Berlin."

Hudson River Blaze Burns Pier, Barges

. . . $4,000,000 DAMAGE

HOBOKEN, N. J., Aug. 12—(AP)—A 1,100-foot pier in the Hudson river was almost completely destroyed by fire which raged about four hours before being brought under control early today.

Acting Fire Chief Andrew H. Keller said the fire was of undetermined origin and began on a barge which was transferring its cargo to a ship moored at pier No. 4. Keller said there was no indication of sabotage. He said there was no immediate estimate of the loss, but it was unofficially reported at $4,000,000.

Fourteen persons were taken to St. Mary's hospital for treatment of burns and smoke poisoning, while more than 50 others, including firemen, were given first aid treatment at the scene. Keller said none was seriously injured.

Three barges and a derrick moored at the pier were burned, one of the barges sinking.

Police quoted Rocco Aibro, stevedore on the pier, as saying the fire occurred when drums of oil or nitro-cellulose exploded, igniting both the pier and the barges.

Forest Fire In Colorado Rages Out Of Control

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Aug. 12—(INS)—Nearly 400 men today were battling a forest fire in the Medicine Bow range northwest of Fort Collins, Colo. The blaze, which raged through more than 1,500 acres of timber, was believed to be the most extensive in Colorado forests in several years.

A detachment of 200 soldiers from Fort Francis E. Warren at Cheyenne arrived yesterday to augment the weary volunteers who had been fighting the blaze for more than 24 hours.

The fire, believed under control Thursday, flared up again yesterday when fanned by a breeze which sent the flames through lines into thicker and older timber.

Rehearing Asked In Carrier Case

Attorney General Johnson filed a brief in Supreme court asking rehearing of the court's decision holding that Clem Hergott, acting on a transferred certificate of convenience and necessity issued before the present motor carrier act was passed, with within his rights. A show cause order of the commission was held ineffective by the high court because wilfulness was not shown in the actions complained off. The commission complained because Hergott had abandoned operations from certain points as authorized by his certificate and had instituted operations to and from points between which he was not authorized to operate.

The court's ruling was that Hergott's action must have been wilful violation of the motor carrier act or of some lawful order promulgated by the state commission under the act or of some term, condition or limitation of the certificate, in order to be unlawful.

The state's brief contends the high court in its opinion overlooked the distinction between powers of the state commission and those of the Interstate commerce commission and that the state commission derives its powers from the Nebraska constitution.

—WALTHER LEAGUE MEET—

Commanders Co-operative In Religious Work

. . . Says Kretzmann

OMAHA, Aug. 12—(AP)—The Rev. A. R. Kretzmann, Chicago, member of the international executive board of the Walther league, told the state league convention today that this war is "a praying war," rather than "a singing war," according to information he has obtained from army chaplains.

No new war songs have become unusually popular, Rev. Kretzmann said, but added that chaplains tell him the "morale and morals" of soldiers of all churches are better than during the first world war.

He declared army commanders have been very co-operative in aiding religious work ond described the part the Walther league is playing in the church's war time program. The league hopes, he said, to help returning soldiers take advantage of the educational, rehabilitation and re-employment provisions of the "GI bill of rights."

There were about 250 delegates present when the two-day sessions opened this morning, out of an anticipated attendance of more than 400. The league has 2,750 members in Nebraska.

Legion Plans Campaign For Conscription

. . . In Postwar Era

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12 — (INS)—The American Legion announced today that it will intensify its 25-year campaign for the enactment of peace-time universal military training, urging the next session of congress to adopt such legislation before the end of the present war.

Simultaneously with this announcement came the release by National Commander Warren H. Atherton of a letter from Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, himself a legionnaire.

Secretary Stimson stated that the proposed universal military training legislation was the only practical alternative to maintaining a large standing American army at a crushing cost to taxpayers.

Atherton, who in the past two years has visited both the North African and the Pacific battle fronts, asserted that the principle must be enacted before this war ends.

Warfare Revolutionized.

"Military science is marching with seven-league boots," he said. "The robot bomb and the jet-propelled or rocket-powered airplane will revolutionize warfare.

"If war comes again, there will be no time to get ready. Mobilization will have to be for immediate fighting not for training to fight. The next time bombs will rain down on our principal cities not on Pearl Harbor. The next time it will be too late to start building an army and navy after the fighting begins. The next time we must be ready or go down in swift and terrific defeat."

A bill which will probably advocate compulsory military training for all males between 18 and 23, with subsequent transfer to the reserve, will be drafted at the Legion's 26th national convention in Chicago in September.

70 Percent Cab Calls Are Void, Owners Testify

. . . at Moran Hearing

Taxicab company owners in Lincoln testified at the closing session of the hearing on application of Howard B. Moran for right to operate another taxi service in the city, that a large proportion of calls received are worthless because patrons place them with several companies and take the first one that resopnds.

Earl A. Wilson, president of Checker Cab Service, said that this caused much needless travel and disorganization. He said his system operates 13 cabs and placed these "void" calls at 70 percent of the total.

Irvin E. Strube, owner of the Yellow Cab service, said his company owns 20 cabs with 16 operating by day and 17 by night. His request to the ODT to operate more cabs, he said, was rejected. Keith Hornaday, owner of the Black and White cab company, and W. J. Sedl, with the Checker company, gave similar testimony.

Got More Mileage.

All joined in stating that ODT authorities responded to requests by granting slightly additional mileage the result of which has been to wear out cars and make service more difficult when the companies stood ready to add to their fleets if more gasoline were allowed.

Withesses for the applicant, who wants to start with four cars, testified to inability of the public to get taxi transportation. These included Lawrence E. Hovik, director of planning for the Lincoln chamber of commerce, who told of the heavy influx of people to the city; Worth W. Waltermeier, Capital hotel manager and A. Q. Schimmel, manager of the Cornhusker hotel, who testified to continual difficulties guests have in getting service; Tom Connelly, of the Lincoln Newspapers, who testified to particular difficulty in obtaining a taxi when arriving on the Rocket; F. E. Morris, Burlington engineer, who related his troubles in getting transportation home at late hours; Miss Ruth Frisbie, PBX operator at the Cornhusker, who gave a vivid picture of her difficulties on the board with irate persons demanding taxi service; Guy E. Koons, filling station proprietor, 3334 Woodshire.

Others who testified similarly were Myrtle Thornburg, beautician and Lyle Long, barber. They all told that it took commandeering at times to get a cab. They spoke of lines in the street hailing passing taxis and patrons darting out from the sidewalk in midblock to stop cars especially at night.

Examiner Fred Sargent took the case under advisement and announced a recommendation to the state railway commission would be made soon.

Loeffel Tells How To Cook Utility Beef

Utility grade beef, which becomes point free Sunday, is higher in protein and soluble vitamin content, and is just as palatable, if prepared properly, as higher grades of beef, according to William Loeffel, head of the department of animal husbandry at the University of Nebraska.

There are several grades of beef—prime, choice, good, commercial, and utility. All cuts will be available in the utility grade, including steaks, roasts and the more lowly hamburger.

Since utility beef is inclined to be dry and is not as tender as higher grades, it should be cooked slowly and with moist heat. Marinating it with oil or vinegar, or larding it with bacon strips will also make it more tender.

EISENHOWER TAKES BRITAIN BY STORM

It is largely a new crop of American generals who are fighting this war. General Marshall, General Eisenhower and General Bradley have come to fame since the Japanese "sneak attack" on Pearl Harbor. They were high-ranking officers before the Japanese struck, but their unusual appeal to American pride represents the results of their leadership since December of 1941.

One Solid Rock

This man Marshall has won a place for himself in American affections. In the post he has occupied, he has been most retiring. Rarely does his name blaze forth from the headlines. It is the men under him who grab all the news columns and headlines, while Marshall seems quite content to go marching along. Yet it is evident that the American chief-of-staff is a man of great ability. The strategy of these battles, the disposition of forces, the multitudinous details relating to an army that is the greatest in American history, represent his responsibility. He has shouldered it so quietly and with such little fuss that the task has appeared to be easy.

Kindly Warrior

Perhaps the one quality most predominant in Marshall has been his consideration for the men under him. There have been no needless sacrifices of human life. When Marshall struck, American fathers and mothers have known that it was after the most complete preparation, without any attempt to gamble upon chance. This consideration for the factor of human life in no way has involved military efficiency. The ruthlessness of the German high command in disregard of human life has paid poor dividends in the outcome of battles by comparison with Marshall's methods.

Liked By the British

General Eisenhower came into a difficult role when he was selected as allied supreme commander for the European operations. It is no secret that the British wanted one of their own. Their most distinguished general, Montgomery, was their natural choice, but, amazingly, General Eisenhower has made the British forget the hero of the North African campaign. Montgomery himself, General Sir Allen Brooke, of the British air staff, and Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder are among the strongest admirers of the allied commander.

Little In Public

What is the secret of it? For one thing, General Eisenhower seldom is seen in public and is heard less. His shyness has intrigued the British people from the cab-driver to the barmaid. After the pattern of General Marshall, Eisenhower is quite content to permit the others to have the glory. His capacity for decision and action has these Britishers gaping. Montgomery is slow.

After the War

It is rather a reassuring thought that Uncle Sam has been so singularly blessed with a capable military leadership. After this war is over, no American general staff is going to occupy swivel chairs in the same sense they did before. No doubt, the problems of American defense will be given the most careful study in the nation's history and blueprints for the safety and security of the American mainland will be developed in full detail. In the dangerous world that this has become, there will be less disposition to leave that for the future.

Speeding It Up

Towards the close of the week, it was revealed to the American people that President Roosevelt had visited Hawaii to confer with General Douglas MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz. When Tokyo learned the news, the Japanese capital must have written it down as "bad medicine." The president's Hawaiian visit was for one purpose alone and that was to confer with his leaders in speeding up the war against Japan that it may be ended as quickly as possible.

Back To the Philippines

Out of those conferences one thing became clear. General MacArthur is to have the one wish dearest to him and that is recapture of the Philippines. He will get his fervent request to lead his men back to the islands. This is strange news in view of the fact that only a few months ago the president's critics, more concerned with taking a swipe at Mr. Roosevelt than with MacArthur's case, had it written down in columns of type that MacArthur was being held back.

Where It Hurts

Perhaps, one of the most vital blows of the entire war against Japan was struck in mid-week. The bombing attack upon the Palembang area of Sumatra hit Japan where it really hurts. It is the location of the Pladjoe oil refinery plant, which in peace time was one of the largest producers of gasoline in the Orient. That refinery annually handled 18 million barrels of crude oil and has been one of the main sources of supply for the Japanese air force.

Fuel and Pilots

Contrary to popular notions, Japan is not short on airplanes. It lacks trained pilots and its supply of gasoline is a never-ending headache. It has no source of supply near at home and looks almost entirely to the fabulously rich fields of the Dutch East Indies, including North Borneo, and Sumatra for its oil. The attack upon Sumatra was not just another air raid. It was aimed directly at the very heart of the Japanese military machine.

Stranger Than Fiction

This week has brought out a number of the most amazing war stories. Among them was the news that the "ghost of Guam" is home again in the United States. As chief radio man, George E. Tweed of Portland, Oregon, was rescued by American naval forces after hiding in the brush of the jungle for 31 months after the Japanese captured Guam.

Many More Islands

But this indomitable Yankee, who played hide and seek for more than two years with death—the Japs had a standing order to kill any Americans taking refuge in the hills—did not bring back the most encouraging words. He expressed the opinion that the Japanese will have to be routed out of a lot more islands in the Pacific before finally they were beaten. "The Japs don't believe in surrender," he said. The figures would bear him out. In these recent glorious days of American successes in the Pacific, the number of Jap prisoners taken is small, indeed, to the number reported killed.

Ready To Quit

Here at home feeling mounted that Germany was about to turn up its toes. No amount of caution could suppress the bubbling enthusiasm of the American people as their armies drove rapidly through France to within the shadows of the French capital as the week came to a close. It has been an amazing example of the speed of mechanized warfare. Only four years ago, the United States did not have a single armored division. And in the last seven days, the rumbling tanks and the motorized columns under command of General Bradley have been speeding across the French countryside to surpass even the prodigious accomplishments of the Russians on the eastern front.

Quick To Learn

In a nation universally given over to the automobile, these fighting Yanks did not require much training for motorized or mechanized warfare. It was their dish. Driving a tank was second nature to them. Handling an armored car was old stuff, so far as the mechanics is concerned, and the pay-off has been very much in evidence in recent days. It all depends on the quality of German morale. There is still a lot of country in the northern provinces of France before the Americans and the British edge close to the fringes of Hitler's soil. And the best defensive positions in all France are those positions to the east and to the north of Paris. There the rivers, the hills and the woods furnish much natural protection. Hitler's problem is not so much to stand there as it is to get back there with something left with which to fight.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Flip Makes a Real Mistake.

He's prone to make mistakes who tries
By how he feels to judge his size.
—Old Mother Nature.

That is why we so often meet small folks who think themselves big, or at least much bigger than they are, and now and then meet big folks who seem not to know that they are so. Flip the Terrier is a small Dog. He is a Fox Terrier and all Fox Terriers are very small Dogs. Even for a Fox Terrier Flip was rather small.

If Flip was small in body there was nothing small about his courage.

Running away does not always mean that one is afraid, although most folks seem to think it does.

Flip delights in chasing any one who runs. He used to chase Black Pussy the Cat until she discovered that if she didn't run he only barked at her and soon tired of that. So when he goes afield with Farmer Brown's boy he always looks for some one to chase.

It was just so the night that he and Farmer Brown's boy surprised Bobby Coon and Mrs. Bobby and the four lively young Coons in the cornfield. His master had taken him over there early and they had sat quietly waiting in amongst the cornstalks for the coming of the Coons.

When his master released Flip he raced toward those sounds as fast as he could run. He didn't bark. He would do that when he could see these mischief-makers who were in the corn. They saw him just as he saw them and away they ran, heading for the Green Forest. They scattered somewhat. It was each for himself. Flip picked out one and started after him. He barked then, and how!

Flip can run fast. So can Coons for a short distance. Flip had picked out the biggest one. It was Bobby Coon himself. Perhaps it was because Bobby had purposely let the others get a good start so that he would be between them and this noisy Dog. Did Flip notice

Half way to the Green Forest it was plain to Flip that he was gaining that he was chasing some one bigger than himself? I doubt it. Size meant nothing to him. This fellow was running from him and that was all that meant anything to him.

Half way to the Green Forest it was plain to Flip that he was gaining.

He did his best to run faster and he was succeeding or Bobby Coon was running more slowly. Suddenly Bobby stopped. It was so unexpected that Flip almost ran into him. He checked himself and turned to face Bobby Coon. He saw at once that Bobby intended to fight. He didn't look the least bit afraid, but he must be. If not, why had he run? His growl sounded ugly, but what of it? He had an unpleasant-sounding snarl but what of it? When he drew back his lips his teeth looked long and sharp, but what of it? In a jiffy, he, Flip, would show this fellow what a mistake he had made by stopping to fight.

It was Flip who was making the mistake, and it was a real mistake. You know there are little mistakes and big mistakes. The little ones are called errors. The big ones are—well, they are real mistakes. This was one.

DIET AND HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "The Human Body"

THOSE ACHING FEET! EXERCISE WLL HELP

The hazard of injury of disease of the hands, as we pointed out in a recent article, is that the hand gets thrust into dangerous places—whirling machinery, against splinters and sharp surfaces. The hazard of the feet is simply weight bearing.

The blood vessels of the feet are especially likely to go bad. Infections are rare because of the usual protection of the foot. But to have to bear up the weight of a hundred to two hundred pounds mass of flesh on a delicate arch spanned by thin bones, tendons and muscles—that is what causes its most frequent trouble.

The number of people who have painful feet is unknown to statisticians, but it must go into astronomical figures. We get some hints from military medical reports—in one group 30,000 out of 220,000 draftees were disqualified for general military service because of feet: 21,000 were qualified for limited military service and 9,000 were absolutely rejected.

Strain on Feet.

Of course as soon as anyone not used to it goes up against the marching and standing of military service, the strain on the foot arch is bound to cause grief.

Corns and calluses are also simply expressions of poor weight bearing or poor foot gear—quite as often due to too big as too tight shoes. Corns are due to pressure or rubbing and too big a shoe will rub a corn into existence as readily as too tight a shoe will press one.

A corn is somewhat different from a callus, which latter is a flaky, horny thickening of the skin. A corn has a central conical mass with the sharp end pointing inward and will not be entirely cured until that center is removed. For permanent relief of a corn, especially recurrent corns, proper muscle balance of the foot must be restored and this is done largely by exercises, plus properly designed shoes.

Removing Pressure.

For most cases of corns, conservative measures, such as paring, protecting by shields and corn plasters containing salicylic acid which soften the horny tissue end, and, of course, relief of pressure, are preferred.

Regular exercises are almost a necessity for those with weak feet who have to stand or walk a good part of the 24 hours. They should be done morning and evening.

The best foot exercises can be done with the help of a bathroom towel. Lying on the back, holding one end of the towel in each hand, put the foot in the center of the towel and push hard against it, pulling the towel to right and left alternately.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. J.:—Is it dangerous to keep a medicine over a length of time and then use it?

Answer: Most medicines lose their effectiveness with time. Using such a medicine you may lose enough time to make the difference between successful treatment and failure or between quick recovery and prolonged illness. A few medicines may in the course of time become dangerous. An example is tincture of iodine, which loses its alcohol by evaporation and becomes dangerously irritating if kept too long.

Washington Calling

BY MARQUIS CHILDS.

WASHINGTON—In a speech in New York last night, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes hailed Henry Wallace as the leader of the liberal forces in America. This has a strange irony since Ickes, as much as any single individual, was responsible for the fact that the democratic convention refused to renominate Wallace.

The part that Ickes played just before the convention has never been told. Here are the facts:

Ickes is a friend of Thomas ("Tommy the Cork") Corcoran. Corcoran also has a close friend in Under Secretary of the Interior Abe Fortas. Together Fortas and Corcoran persuaded Ickes that, since Wallace had little chance for renomination in any event, he should put his weight behind Justice William O. Douglas.

Convinced by the Corcoran-Fortas line and having no great love for Wallace in any event, Ickes went to see the president. He told him Wallace would cost the ticket millions of votes; that his re-election would be far more difficult if the vice president was renominated.

Not content with this, when Wallace returned to Washington from his trip to China and Siberia, Ickes got to him before he had seen the president. The interior secretary and Samuel I. Rosenman, special counsel and close friend to the president, went to Wallace's apartment in the Wardman-Park hotel for lunch. They proceeded to try to tell Wallace that for the good of the party and the country he must step out.

"Just a minute," Wallace said, interrupting Ickes, "but I haven't seen the president yet, and I don't want to talk about that until I do see him. If he gives me the slightest inkling that it would be better if I did not run, I will step aside."

Those who defend the president in his handling of the Wallace issue point to the difficulty of his position. He had been told by spokesmen for both major wings of the party that Wallace would be a handicap. Democratic national chairman Robert Hannegan had repeatedly made clear his desire to get rid of Wallace. Then Ickes, essaying to speak for the liberals, told him the same thing.

What happened to change Ickes' mind, when he reached Chicago as a member of the Illinois delegation, is not clear. But change his mind he did, and with a bang. Apparently he had begun to realize that he would put himself in line with the bosses, and above all his old enemy Mayor Kelly, if he participated in any move that would result in ditching the vice president.

The secretary came out of his corner fighting for Wallace. He sent a hot five-page telegram to Roosevelt denouncing the stop-Wallace move.

Of course, Douglas never had a chance at any time. How Corcoran, a shrewd politician with a strong antipathy for Wallace, could ever have thought so is a mystery. But his conviction was real enough for the moment to sell his friend Ickes on the idea.

Wallace was told all about this scheming when he returned from the far east. He blames Corcoran more than he does Ickes for what happened. When Wallace was rejected, Ickes sent him a warm letter of friendship and condolence.

An interesting footnote is the fact that Corcoran's good friend and protege, Hugh Fulton, will be close to vice presidential candidate Harry Truman during the campaign. Truman made Fulton counsel for the war investigating committee bearing his name, and Fulton resigned with the chairman this week. While he plans to open a law office in New York, he will help Truman with his speeches.

"Courageous Henry Wallace carrying the liberal flag," said Ickes in his speech to the American Labor Party convention. Better late than never, I suppose.

Chapter 16.

They walked through the gate, Angel first, the guards unable to hide their appreciation of her beauty and the charming great-lady smile with which she favored them briefly. Halfway to the plant they were met by Bob Grant, the orchestra leader, a pleasant-looking man of about thirty-five, who acknowledged introductions politely.

"Thought I'd better come looking for you, Steve," he said. "Couldn't figure out what had happened, and our precious time is getting shorter and shorter."

Angel tucked a hand in Dick's arm, motioned to Louise to come on, and they followed the orchestra leader across the greensward, around the buildings, to the back to the plant. There, on a long, level patch of green, an impromptu stage had been set up. A stage consisting merely of the truck in which the regular entertainers traveled, with the back and side-boards let down. Bob Grant helped Angel clamber up, and Louise and Dick strolled off, after arranging to meet her later.

It was oppressively hot, and the heat seemed to be increasing. The orchestra members looked harried and tired as they sorted through their music, stopping every few seconds to wipe away perspiration.

"What will it be, Mrs. Saunders?" Grant inquired.

Angel debated for a moment. "You know, I think I'd like to do something classical—for one number, at least. There's a song I've always been rather fond of—Elsa's Dream, from Lohengrin. These people ought to have something of that kind—something uplifting—don't you think? Not that they would understand it beauty or meaning—"

Bob Grant cut in. "Sorry to interrupt, Mrs. Saunders, but there's hardly any time left. I'm afraid I haven't the score for that particular number with me. I'd just like to say, though, from my experience at a number of plants, that workers like that kind of music too. Lots of them even understand it, as you put it. What else will you have?"

Angel pouted. "Oh, one of those Oklahoma things, I suppose. People Will Say We're in Love. How about that?"

"Right," said Grant. "Go to it, boys."

As the rehearsal was about to begin Steve Turcot, who had disappeared for a while, came out of one of the buildings. "Okay, Grant," he said. "You can have an extra fifteen minutes. I explained to the departments over our loudspeaker that the show was delayed a little. The folks will eat inside today and see the entertainment afterward."

"Thanks, Steve," said the orchestra man gratefully. "That helps."

As the men put the music on their racks, Angel expressed surprise that the band was only four pieces. "Of course, I don't mean to criticize," she added, in what was meant to be a conciliatory tone, "but you'd hardly call this an orchestra at all."

"I can't possibly carry all my men and their instruments and the other entertainers, with the facilities I have," Grant explained, with a politeness he did not feel. "The truck is too small, when you count the props and that kind of thing."

"All right—I suppose it'll have to do," Angel said, but she was displeased. "I had an idea it would be a larger orchestra."

Bog Grant looked at her quizzically. "You know," he ribbed, "a nasty rumor has been going around for quite some time now. Something about there being a war on, and things not being on a business-as-usual basis. It seems that goes for musicians too."

Big liquid eyes began to fill with tears. "I—I think I ought to know there's a war on, Mr. Grant. In a more personal way even than you, perhaps."

Grant turned quickly, and picked up his abton. "Okay, boys? Let's go."

Rehearsal was over none too soon. Steve Turcot, acting as master of ceremonies, climbed hastily onto the truck just as the workers began trooping out of the buildings, some of them carrying their lunch pails containing an unfinished meal. There were men and women of all ages, in overalls and slacks — the national home-front uniform. They arranged themselves quietly on the ground and waited.

Steve Turcot was happy now. Everything was ready and he had nothing to worry about. "Ladies and gentlemen," he boomed into the loudspeaker microphone, "today I have a surprise for you. Our guest star, the little girl with the big eyes and a bigger voice, who will sing for you, is none other than Mrs. Jimmie Saunders, the wife of that lad who so gallantly risked—perhaps gave—his life in a brave, one-man attack on enemy planes . . ."

Whatever else Steve said could not be heard. A roar of cheering went up that deafened even the participants. These people loved Jimmie Saunders—and the thousands like him who had offered up their lives on the abttlefront. Angel stood waiting, tremulous and smiling a little mistily. Then she lifted one graceful hand in a wordless plea, and the noise stopped.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WILD FLOWERS.

They seldom grow in prison pots,
Nor deck a woman's hair.
They have no love for city lots
Or shops where strangers stare.
They choose the cool, sequestered spots
And the sweet country air.

They do not ask for greenhouse glass
To shield them from the cold.
They brave the winds and rains that pass
The hills and fields to hold.
They deck the roadways with a mass
Of blossom, blue and gold.

They ask no culture save their own;
No shelter save the trees.
To them is nature's fury known
And nature's roving bees,
And yet, the fairest orchid grown
Is loved no more than these!

Fisher Will Be Tried In Death Of N. D. Officer

W. C. Condit, former state sheriff, and Les Hasson, former deputy state sheriff and now deputy county sheriff, left Lincoln Saturday morning for Williston, N. D., where they will appear as witnesses against J. B. Fisher who is charged with the killing in 1930 of Martin Johnson, Ray, N. D., police officer.

Fisher was released in June from the Nebraska state penitentiary after his 40-year sentence for robbery of a bank in Genoa, Neb., in 1930 had been cut through commutation and paroles. His companion, John Giles, was sentenced to a like term in the penitentiary with equal commutations and paroles, but because of an attempted escape he still has five years to serve.

Arrested In Reno.

Following the robbery, Fisher and Giles went to Baker, Mont., and then to Butte, where they took an airplane to Salt Lake City, Utah. It was in Reno, Nev., their next stop, that Sheriff Condit found and arrested them, bringing them back to Nebraska.

The two men later allegedly confessed to stealing four automobiles, and to twenty-six burglaries and holdups. The admission was reportedly made to Condit, his secretary, Mrs. Eugene Vanderpool, and Deputy Sheriff Frank Weygant. The pair also made a statement while in the penitentiary to Deputy Sheriff Hasson. Mrs. Vanderpool, who arrived in Lincoln Thursday. She is now living at Kimball, N. D., and will also be present to testify against Fisher.

15-In. Cucumber Is Latest Entry In 'Cuke' Derby

The "cuke" contest is on, it seems, for Lewis E. Brown, 1541 North Twenty-sixth street, has produced a cucumber that is even bigger than the foot-long vegetable grown by Eva Sorick, 2009 Sewell streeet.

Mr. Brown brought his cucumber to The Star offices. It measured 15 inches long and 11½ inches in circumference, which obviously is a prize product. This is the largest cucumber grown in Lincoln so far this season, it appears.

Mr. Brown's cucumber is of the Chinese variety and he has picked a crop of three bushels of "cukes" off four vines.

BRAIN TWIZZLERS

By. Prof. J. D. Flint

A young man was called into his employer's office one day and notified that the employer had intended giving him a commission on a large sale which he had made but instead had decided to divide his salary by one-half. The young fellow felt rightfully indignant, knowing that he had done good work, and protested that his salary was only eighteen dollars a week anyway and that he couldn't get along on nine. The employer said, "Oh, you don't understand." The young fellow said, "No, I certainly don't; what's the idea?" The employer smiled and told him to think it over. The young man did and then smiled too. What had he discovered.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S TWIZZLER

C was the murderer. He was the gunman while A was the Racketeer, B the dope-peddler and D the swindler.

Soldier Ballot Requests Swamp Marsh's Office

. . . Seeks Extra Help

Secretary of State Frank Marsh is hunting for state house clerks with little to do who may be transferred temporarily to his department and put to work docketing overseas soldiers' applications for war ballots.

He put the proposition up to Secretary Greenamyre of the governor's office, who on going over the lists, found the clerks not on vacation so busy with their own absent on leave that they couldn't get away.

"The legislature amended the absentee ballot law without giving me an additional cent to administer it," Marsh complained. "Six thousand requests for ballots have come in since August 1, and the one clerk I have for the work is swamped."

Any clerk transferred for the job may have to work overtime without pay, it was stated, unless enough can be found with slack work in their own offices to docket the cards.

Secretary Greenamyre suggested all the secretary of state need do is forward the cards to county clerks without keeping a record of them. This question will be settled when Governor Griswold is back Monday.

Nomination On Two Tickets Is Ruled 'Legal'

. . . If By Write-In

A candidate for county commissioner in Platte county received the nomination by write-in votes from electors in both parties in the recent primary. He now is the candidate of both parties for the place, Assistant Attorney General Robert A. Nelson holds and ther is no vacancy on either of the two party ballots.

Nelson was answering a query from County Attorney Arthur W. Kummer of Columbus when he made the finding. Kummer wanted to know if the candidate could accept the nomination of both parties.

The law specifies that the name of the same candidate may not appear printed on more than one party ticket, but provides electors may vote for a candidate of and ther is no vacancy on either name and marking it with a cross. However, if the candidate loses the nomination of the party of which he is an avowed candidate, he may not accept the nomination tendered him by electors of tha other party.

In this case the candidate received the nomination of both parties and may therefore become a candidate of both parties.

Parish Hall Gets 1-Day Beer Permit For Polk Bazaar

Parish Hall, of Sacred Heart church, in Polk county, has obtained permission of the state liquor control commission to move its license for on and off sale of beer at retail to be used by St. Andrews church in Ellers hall, Shelby, Polk county for one day only, August 13. The license automatically moves back to its original location after that.

Transfer is obtained by paying a dollar fee for the change and another dollar for return It is done only on application of responsible parties requesting same from both locations.

The liquor commission Friday denied an outside beer license to Irvin C. Clark Randolph, and refused a retail beer license to Shalimar Country club, near Florence, Douglas county.

Krupinsky said Paul Halpine of Lincoln, vice-chairman of the Midwest Operators association and secretary of the Nebraska association, will represent Nebraska at a meeting of operators from the eight states with ODT highway transportation Director Ellis T. Longenecker in Minneapolis tomorrow.

Winsky said 800 striking intercity drivers and dock workers here were prepared to return to work immediately. "Everything's lovely," Winsky declared. "Our men are willing to work under government supervision until the wage dispute is settled."

The government's action is believed to have come just in time to relieve developing food shortages in outlying Nebraska communities which depend on trucks for food.

Nebraska firms involved in the seizure include:

Brown Transfer company, Kearney; Darling Transfer, Auburn; Highway Motor Freight, Inc., Omaha; Nielsen and Petersen, Grand Island; On-time Transfer company, Omaha; Frank H. Prucka Transportation company, Omaha; Red Ball Transfer Co., Omaha, Union Freightways, Union Transfer Co., Omaha and Watson Bros., Omaha.

Brown Transfer of Kearney and Nielsen and Peterson of Grand Island are in the juridiction of the North Platte district ODT office but their terminals here and other properties within the Omaha district will be operated from the ODT office here.

Wheat Close Is Irregular

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—(AP)—

Selling of rye futures forced that market down as much as a cent in late dealings today and the liquidation spread to other pits, turning earlier gains into slight losses.

Commission house selling of rye was influenced partly by a fall in the cotton market, which had opened strong. Favorable war news discouraged longs in the wheat market. Oats were weakened by reports from the east that Canadian oats were taking the market away from the midwest.

Wheat closed ⅜c lower to ⅛c higher than the previous finish, September $1 53¼@⅜, oats were ⅞c off to ¼c up, September 68¾c; rye was ⅜ to 1 cent lower, September $1 02¾@⅞, and barley was ¼ to ⅞c off, September $1.10⅞.

December and May rye reached new seasonal lows at one time at $1 02⅝ and $1 04⅜ respectively.

FDR WILL REPORT

joint chiefs of staff, and other high ranking white house military advisers. The entire party which left Washington with the president July 13 did not go with him to the Aleutians.

Thrilled By Visit.

The fact that the president had gone from his three-day Hawaiian inspection on north to Alaska to look over the Aleutians became public last night with the release of delayed dispatches dated a week ago yesterday.

Norman Bell, Associated Press correspondent of an Aleutian island base, quoted Mr. Roosevelt as saying he was thrilled and gratified by his visit there which, like Pearl Harbor, saw him for the first time since the war began.

Bell said Mr. Roosevelt saluted members of the armed forces participating in the Aleutian campaign and military constructions there. He termed incredible the speed with which the Japanese were driven out and the islands converted into offensive bases.

Called A Vacation.

Apparently Mr. Roosevelt's reaction to the Aleutian developments was identical to the enthusiasm with which he viewed the land, sea and air fighting might at Hawaii. While he was in Honolulu the president expressed amazement at the changes made on the island which Jap bombs littered with the dead and wreckage that plunged this nation into war on Dec. 7, 1941. Scars of the Japanese raid were gone long before Mr. Roosevelt arrived.

Secret service men told Bell the president's Aleutian visit was just a vacation, but that was not the case in Honolulu where Mr. Roosevelt went through a series of intensive military conferences. He said later the discussions charted new offensives against the Japanese, but he gave no hint of their imminence or nature.

Throughout his Pacific tour the president kept publicly away from fourth term politics which reached a mid-summer climax at Chicago—where the democrats renominated him—after he had left Washington to begin his inspection and talks. Mr. Roosevelt said he had received a nice telegram from Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, his vice presidential running mate, but otherwise he talked no politics with reporters.

In his acceptance speech he said he would be too busy this year to campaign in the usual political sense.

Trading Slows Down to Crawl

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(AP)—

Stock market leaders generally kept one foot on the recovery ladder today although the majority failed to do much in the way of spectacular climbing.

Dealings slowed from the start. Volume for the two hours of around 400,000 shares was one of the smallest of the past several months. Low-priced utilities and motors, recently the fastest sprinters, remained in this background. While ascsorted pivotals were at a standstill, or a shade under water, fractional advances were well distributed near the close.

Sugar stocks revived, apparently in reflection of the possibility next week's Cuban negotiations might result in a better price for the 1945 crop.

Ahead the greater part of the time were Cuban-American Sugar, South Porto Sugar, Braniff Airways (at a peak for the year), United Air Lines, Pan American Airways, Bethlehem, N. Y. Central, Pullman, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Cerro de Pasco and U. S. Gypsum.

Railway bonds enjoyed a modest lift.

newspaper Red Star said the Russians beat back initial counter attacks launched by the reserves. Ten to 12 counter blows were hurled against separate sectors but these were said to have slackened, with the enemy retreating westward.

This is difficult country for tanks and Russian infantry largely is winning the battle, marching ever closer to east Pressia.

Two swift flowing deep rivers were the scane of today's hot battleground south of the Masurian Lakes—the Bog where it falls into the Vistula north of Warsaw and the Biebrqza, a tributary of the Narew west and northwest of Bialystok.

There were no indications that the Russians have crossed either river, but if not these operations are in the offing.

This smash into the Germans' left flank stands out as one of the best maneuvers of the war for Marshal Stalin, who always plays the game of a crafty boxer. A blow was thrown in after the enemy had been forced to move his main defense to the East Prussian-Lithuanian frontier.

Roosevelt's Truck Seizure Order

WASHINGTON, (AP). Text of the president's executive order, directing seizure of midwest trucking firms involved in a strike, follows:

Whereas after investigation I find and proclaim that the motor carrier transportation systems of the motor carriers named in the list attached hereto and made a part hereof are equipped for the transportation of materials of war and supplies that are required for the war effort, or useful in connection therewith, and are now engaged in such transportation; that there are threatened interruptions of the operation of the said transportation systems as a result of a labor disturbance; that the war effort will be unduly impeded or delayed by such interruptions; that it has become necessary in the national defense to take possession and assume control of the said transportation systems for needful and desirable purposes connected with the prosecution of the war and that they be operated by or for the United States; and that the exercise, as hereinafter specified, of the powers vested in me is necessary to insure, in the interest of the war effort, the operation of the said system:

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the constitution and laws of the United States, including the act of Aug. 29, 1916, 39 statm 645, the first war powers act, 1941, and section 9 of the selective training and service act of 1940 as amended by the war labor disputes act, as president of the United States and commander in chief of the army and navy, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Seizure Authorized.

1. The director of the office of defense transportation is authorized and directed, thru or with the aid of any public officers, federal agencies, or other government instrumentalities, that he may designate, to take possession and assume control of, and to operate, or arrange for the operation of, the motor carrier transportation systems of the motor carriers named in the list attached hereto and made a part hereof, including all real and personal property and other assets, wherever situated, used or useful in connection with the operation of such systems, in such manner as he may deem necessary for the successful prosecution of the war; and to do anything that he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this order.

2. Subject to applicable provisions of existing law, including the orders of the office of defense transportation issued pursuant to executive orders 8989, as amended, 9156, and 9294, the said transportation systems shall be managed and operated under the terms and conditions of employment in effect between the carriers and the collective bargaining agents at the time possession is taken under this order. During his operation of said transportation systems the director shall observe the terms and conditions of the directife order of the national war lapor board, dated Feb. 7, 1944; provided, however, that in the case of each said transportation system the director is authorized to pay the wage increases provided for by the said directive order of the national war labor board, which accured prior to the taking of possession of the said system under this order, only out of the net operating revenue of the said system.

No Attachment Allowed.

3. Except with the prior written consent of the director, no attachment by mesne process, garnishment, execution or otherwise shall be levied on or against any of the real or personal property or other assets, tangible or intangible, in the possession of the director hereunder.

4. Possession, control and operation of any transportation system, or any part thereof, or any real or personal property, taken under this order shall be terminated by the director when he determines that such possession, control and operation are no longer necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

5. For the purposes of paragraphs 1 to 4, inclusive, of this order, there are hereby transferred to the director the functions, powers and duties vested in the secretary of war by that part of section 1 of the said act of Aug. 29, 1916, reading as follows:

"The president, in time of war, is empowered, thru the secretary of war, to take possession and assume control of any system or systems of transportation, or any part thereof, and to utilize the same, to the exclusion as far as may be necessary of all other traffic thereon, for the transfer or transportation of troops, war material and equipment, or for such other purposes in connection with the emergency as may be needful or desirable."

6. Upon the request of the director of the office of defense transportation the secretary of war is authorized to take any action that may be necessary to enable the director to carry out the provisions and purposes of this order.

said, "our men are instructed to return to work at once."

The drivers walked out a week ago when their employers refused to pay a seven-cents-an-hour wage increase ordered by the war labor board, contending they could not afford to pay the increase unless the government extended them financial relief.

Wage Increase Granted.

Under the government seizure the men will be paid the authorized wage increase from 12:01 a. m. today but back pay from last November when the WLB order was returned will be given to the drivers only from future net operating revenue of each company, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of ODT, said.

In his report to President Roosevelt on the non-compliance of the operators, Chairman William H. Davis of the war labor board said that transport of material for 300 major war plants was jeopardized.

Longenecker will be federal manager of the truck companies which handle 5,000,000 tons of freight annually in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri and parts of Wisconsin and Oklahoma.

Sam Winsky, secretary of the AFL teamsters union in Omaha, Neb., said the 800 striking intercity drivers and dock workers there were prepared to resume work but M. M. Krupinsky, Nebraska chairman of the Midwest Operators association, said drivers reporting for work were told operations would not be resumed until the government formally takes over.

Cards Bob Up With Surprise Pitching

—ROOKIE TED WILKS WINS PLACE AS REGULAR—

BY CHIP ROYAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(AP)—When Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals was whipping the National league champions into shape last spring at Cairo, Ill., he admitted he was worried more about his hurlers than anything else.

"I don't know where I'll find replacements for the pitchers we have lost," moaned sweet Willyum. "So I guess I'll just have to go ahead, switch the team's attack, and try for big innings like the Yankees do.

"With the tight fisted pitching we were getting last year (the staff as a whole allowed only 2.57 earned runs a game) we could play the percentage and try for one run. This year we'll have to get some hitting—or else."

Well, a glance at the standings and averages shows the Cardinals learned their lessons well in the little Illinois river town.

The pitchers probably will win more games than any other Cardinal staff and the batters have become experts at the wide-open, hit-away, try-for-a-big inning attack.

Big Four Tops of League.

Ted Wilks, Harry Brecheen, Mort Cooper and Max Lanier have settled down to become the top "big four" of the league. The way they have been increasingly effective on the mound, they shouldn't have any trouble bettering the 106 won mark of the 1942 staff, the best Cardinal record.

Stan Musial again is leading the club's stickers. The Red Birds' right fielder also is tops in scoring runs, making hits and doubles. He'll probably wind up leading the league in all those departments.

Right behind Stan comes Johnny Hopp, who is having one of his best years; Augie Bergamo, the hard hitting rookie outfielder; Catcher Walker Cooper and First Sacker Ray Sanders.

The Cards as a whole have been hitting around .275 all season and, the way the safeties have been increasing off the St. Louis bats, the men of Southworth may equal the team record of .314, made in 1930.

Bidding For Loop Record.

Speaking of new marks, the Red Birds are a cinch to make two. They should garner 100 victories easily and become the first National league club to win more than 100 games for the third straight year. They also should make a new team fielding record.

But how does Manager Southworth feel about all this? The last time Willyum saw our town he was still moaning about his pitchers, praising his hitters, and refusing to believe the pennant won. Said Billy:

"When we win 100 games, I'll stop worrying about the pennant because I don't think any other club can do it.

"I've only got seven pitchers, but I think we'll get by as long as the boys keep hitting. That's where our strength is this year—at the plate. Our hitting has offset pitching weaknesses."

Billy won't go out on a limb and say which American league team he prefers to meet in the world series. But, at Cairo, he told us he hoped it would be the Yankees, as he wanted to make up for the mistakes he made last year, and show how the McCarthymen can be beaten.

Pros Set At Spokane

—EXPERTS TEE OFF MONDAY—

By E. J. CROSBY.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 12—(INS)—Nearly 100 of the nation's leading professional golfers will tee off Monday in qualifying rounds of the twenty-sixth P. G. A. championship tournament over the 6454-yard Manito course in Spokane for prize money totaling $20,000.

Heading the list will be Harold "Jug" McSpaden of Philadelphia and Byron Nelson, Toledo, who rank first and second among the nation's money golfers.

Among other big name entrants will be Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., United States and Canadian open champion; Olin Dutra of Los Angeles; Sam Byrd, former Yankee outfielder of Redford, Mich.; Jimmy Hines, Amsterdam, N. Y.; Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y., and Tony Penna, Dayton.

HOT PUTTING WILL HELP.

Professionals who have embarked on their allotted three days of practice over the course are unanimous in attesting the speed of the Manito Gardens links and concede that the money, posted by the Spokane Athletic Round Table, will go to those who are hot with their putters.

Fred Corcoran, P. G. A. tournament manager, declared the course is in excellent shape and points to the narrow fairways and abundance of pine trees as an imposing test for the golfers.

The Manito course is a level layout abounding in tough par-four holes, including the first, second, seventh and ninth on the first nine—which is considered the tough side—and the twelfth, seventeenth and eighteenth on the home stretch.

ON RIM OF CANYON.

The first nine measures 3,437 yards and the second nine is a good 3,017 strides. The eighteenth hole, especially, calls for a stout heart, as it skirts the rim of a canyon and is exposed to a prevailing cross wind.

The western amateur championship, played on the course in 1942, was won by Pat Abbott.

The lowest score in practice sessions so far has been the 68 turned in on the par-72 course by George Schneiter of Salt Lake City. Par on the Manito course is:

Out, 443-444-454—36; in, 534-445-344—36.

Wings Go Tonight

Lincoln Air Field's Entry Takes On Club From Idaho In Head-liner At Muny.

Bouncing back tonight on the Muny diamond from an 8-3 shellacking at Boise, Idaho, last Wednesday, the Lincoln Air Field Wings are set for the second of a three-game series with the Gowen Field Pilots to decide the northern division championship of the Second Air Force. Starting time is 6 o'clock. Extra bleachers have been added to accommodate the expected overflow crowd.

A third game, if necessary, will be played Sunday at Muny, also at 6 o'clock.

All In Top Shape.

Air sickness hampered the Wings' style at Boise, but all players are in top shape for tonight's game, Manager Red McSwain has assigned the pitching chores to Jim Marsh, whose winloss record for the summer season to date is 10-2.

Starting on the mound for the Pilots will be a former Cleveland chucker, Dewey Melton.

Winner of this series will meet the top of the southern division for the Second Air Force title.

Leahy Applies For Navy Combat Duty

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12—(AP)—Navy Lt. Frank W. Leahy, former war-time football coach at Notre Dame university, arrived here last night with the announcement "I applied for active duty; I want to get in the thick of the fight."

Leahy left South Bend, Ind., three months ago and took his navy indoctrination at Princeton university. He said he applied for combat duty.

"I never could figure out mathematics," he told interviewers, "I was the proudest man of my class on passing the navigation tests."

Spanked By Landis

Verbal Lashing For Player Who Violated Rule Which Forbids Winter Activity.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—(INS)—Lou Novikoff, Chicago Cubs utility outfielder, will think twice the next time he decides to play a little winter baseball.

Lou appeared before Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday, at the latter's request, to explain why he played winter ball in violation of rules.

While Landis' office gave out no official word about the hearing, the "Mad Russian" explained "I had it pounded into my head that it was wrong to play winter baseball and not to repeat the offense."

Novikoff was suspended by the Cubs and Commissioner Landis for a while last spring because of the outside activity.

FOR the Q and A. dept, Nolly J. Sams of a Charleston (S. C.) paper suggests one on how many perfect games ever have been pitched in the major leagues... The Green-red book lists six, including Ernie Shore's performance for the Red Sox in 1917, when he relieved Babe Ruth after the Babe passed the first man and the umpire passed Ruth out of the park... The other perfect-game pitchers: John Lee Richmond, Worcester, and John M. Ward, providence, both National league, and Cy Young, Boston; Addie Joss, Cleveland, and C. C. Bengals File Threat

—TIGERS HOT AFTER BROWNS—

BY JACK HAND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(AP)—Detroit's hot and cold Tigers emerged today as the latest "threat" to the St. Louis Browns, with an eight-game win streak giving them renewed hopes of catching the leaders.

Although the Tigers held third place by only a half game over the Yankees, they trailed Boston by only 1½ games and were coming on fast. If the Brownies show any signs of faltering, Detroit eight lengths back, could challenge during the final weeks, when all the western clubs will be home.

Detroit's two-man pitching staff of Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout, each with 18 wins, found a new partner last night in Stubby Overmire, who yielded 12 hits but chimed in with three blows on his own behalf in trimming Washington, 11-4. In the eight-game streak, Newhouser and Trout each started and won three and Overmire picked up two.

DONALD STOPS BROWNS.

New York finally stopped the Brownies' streak, after 10 straight, when their old jinx, Atley Donald, turned the pacesetters back with eight hits, 6-1.

Boston missed a chance to stride forward by losing to Chicago, 9-7, when Clem Hausmann and Pinky Woods walked in runs to break a tie in the ninth. It was the first decision of the year in Fenway Park for the White Sox.

Russ Christopher scattered nine blows while the Philadelphia A's poked 13 hits off three Cleveland tossers for a 6-3 ninth edge. The A's scored five runs in the second to doom Mel Harder.

CARDS CARRY ON.

Teddy Wilks failed to last in his first start since last Sunday's injury, but Fred Schmidt came in to stop the Phillies and take credit for the Cardinals' 9-4 win. Pittsburgh cut loose with seven runs in the fifth to trim New York, 12-8.

Brooklyn belted Chicago for the third time, 7-6, on Louis Olmo's single which scored Barney Koch in the eleventh, and Cincinnati outslugged Boston, 12-6, on two big innings.

Gal Pals In Finals For Fems

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—(AP)—Two 20-year-old golfing chums who have been matching their scores during the tournament to see which of them would be stuck for lunches, started out arm-in-arm today as friendly rivals for the women's western amateur championship.

Dorothy Germain, the defending titleist from Philadelphia, was attempting to become the first player to win the time-honored championship twice in succession since Mrs. Opal S. Hill's sweep in 1931 and 1932.

Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia., current Iowa state champion and a runner-up in the western open two years ago, was seeking her first major golf crown. Both are powerful hitters, Miss Otto having won the driving contest of this tournament by averaging 269 yards on three tee shots.

Waldorf In Charge All-Stars

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 12—(AP)—Head Coach Lynn Waldorf and his aides today started a pleasantly-complicated task of preparing 71 stellar collegiate gridders for their "charity" clash with the Chicago Bears at Dyche Stadium here the night of Aug. 30.

With Northwestern university's facilities largely taken by navy trainees, the All-Stars will be quartered at Dyche Stadium itself as they prime for the eleventh game in the series of late summer contests sponsored by the Chicago Tribune.

The college squad lost Center William Baughman of Iowa and Alabama yesterday when he was ordered to report for army induction on Aug. 28.

Golf, Tennis and Baseball Scheduled Have Big Day Sunday In Capital City

Outdoor sports are coming up with a bumper Sunday program in the state capital city. Contenders for the municipal golf championship, presenting a probable field of not less than 60, are scheduled to take possession of the Pioneers park course during the early morning hours, playing the qualifying round of 18 holes. Match play in all flights is to get going the following week. Emil Frank is the defending muny champion.

Nebraska tennisers, competing in their annual tournament on the Lincoln Tennis club courts on South street, were clashing Saturday in semi-final round play, which means that Sunday will witness the finals in all tourney divisions. The main event Sunday, the men's singles finals, is on the docket for settlement at 2 p. m. Admission to the courts is free and the public is invited.

Singles Finals Sunday.

The Perlo-Adleberg quarter-finals match was concluded Friday, with Perlo the victor, 11-9, 4-6, 9-7. Two of the tourney's leading contenders for the men's singles title, Lt. Gillespie of Grand Island and Pvt. Lloyd Scott, from the Lincoln Army Air Field, were scheduled to cross racquets Saturday afternoon, while Perlo and Frank Pisasale, Omaha city champion, also were dueling in the semi-finals. The winners of this pair of matches will tangle for the state title at 2 p. m. Sunday.

But golf and tennis possibly may not be permitted to steal the Sunday show. Baseball, also, may qualify for a full share of John Public's attention. In event the Lincoln Wings trim the Boise Pilots in their Saturday evening game at Muny, the two clubs will square off Sunday evening at six in a "rubber" battle to decide the diamond championship of the northern division of the Second Air Force.

THE Cardinals not only lead the National league in games won and lost, but they're just as far ahead in what Bill Brandit calls the "BBB"—the parade of baseballs fouled into the stands and returned to be shipped to service men... One newspaperman attending those "hush-hush" meetings where a new pro football league is being organized is said to represent Lieut. Comdr. Gene Tunney, who wants the Baltimore franchise.

AFTER starting to compile Clemson's football roster, Tub-Thumper Joe Sherman pauses to ask what became of the "old days when men were men?"... The 33 under-18-year-old candidates for the Clemson Tiger squad average 5-11½ in height and 176.5 pounds.

Navy Club Pours It On Blues

The Lincoln Blues gulped the zero end of a 7-0 verdict Friday evening at Muny, as the strong Hastings Navy club, once victor over the Lincoln Wings and led by the no-hit chucking of Cutter, pounded out 12 hits for the win.

The Blues, although outclassed, made a good showing and played errorless ball except for two miscues by Duncan in the four-run first inning.

Extra bleachers were set up to handle the 4,500 overflow crowd that saw the Lincoln Air Field softball Wings slap down the Martin Bombers, 8 to 4, in a 9 o'clock exhibition game.

The Lincoln Blackbrids made it a double kill for capital city softball tens when they defeated the Omaha Martin Bomberettes, 7 to 2, in the softball curtain-raiser. The scores:
